In 1906.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York City, Jan. 15.—E. H. Harriman was directed in a decision by Judge Hough in the United States circuit court today to answer all questions propounded to him by the Interstate Commerce Commission except those relating to the purchase of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroad stock in connection with the dividend of August, 1906. Judge Hough also directed Otto H. Kuhn of Kuhn & Loeb & Company to answer all questions asked him by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

TWO ROLLERS TO BE PURCHASED

SUPERVISORS CARRY PROPOSITION BY VOTE OF 22 TO 17.

DEBATE WAS ALL ONE-SIDED

But the Opposition Made Itself Felt
When It Came to Balloting—Changes in County Salary List.

Whether they expected to build roads without road-rollers, or disapproved of the committee's choice of machines, or thought it would be more economical to rent them, was not discussed at the county board meeting this afternoon when seventeen members all but voted down the proposition to provide Commissioner of Highways H. L. Skaylen with two machines—one a steam road-roller of the Monarch pattern and the other a gasoline motor roller of the Austin-Western make. The resolution was ably championed by E. F. Livermore, L. E. Gettle, and other supervisors from the cities of the county which would naturally be expected to be opposed to the expenditure on the ground that they would derive no direct benefit, but the opposition said nothing on the floor. It carried by a vote of 22 to 17. The seven who voted "No" were: Supervisors Holt, Barlow, J. L. Hunt, F. M. Britt, Thos. Clark, H. Abbott, Frank Ashby, P. M. Green, R. C. Hansen, J. B. Henry, W. O. Howell, C. H. Kline, J. A. Paul, F. Reifeld, John Sherman, W. T. Sherman, W. E. Shumaker, and Geo. Woodruff. The special committee which made the recommendations and which is instructed to purchase the rollers is composed of L. E. Gettle, R. H. Crosby, Chas. E. Moore, W. C. Duthie, and J. C. McEvoy. Commissioner Skaylen explained the purpose of a map the system of proposed improved highways which will, in the course of years, bring practically every farmhouse in the county within three miles of one of the good highways radiating from the cities. When asked to talk on the road-roller question, he said that it had been the experience in some sections of the county that a machine paid for itself in value received and roads saved from ruin or uselessness, in one year, and that he thought that the least it would do would be to return 25 per cent on the investment.

Changes in Salaries.
Numerous changes were made yesterday in the salaries list, the same to take effect after the next election. The sheriff was allowed $2,500 per annum for the board of prisoners, as heretofore, and his salary was increased from $1,000 to $1,500, but he was cut off from all fees and must pay his own expenses in taking prisoners or patients to Waupun, Mendota, Waubesa or Green Bay. These fees are estimated to have been worth $1,000 or more, so that the value of the office has been cut down over $500. The county treasurer's income was reduced from $1,200 to $1,000; the county clerk's raised from $1,200 to $1,275. The salary of the deputy sheriff at Beloit was fixed at $10 a month. Miss Belle Stoddard's salary as deputy in the office of the register of deeds was raised from $500 to $600, the same as that of Miss Riekman. The salary of the deputy to the county clerk was raised $100, but that of the deputy to the clerk of court was cut from $720 to $600.

MORE EVIDENCE OF HIS MENTAL POWERS

Thaw's Attorneys Are Fighting Hard to Show He Was Always Peculiar.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Jan. 15.—More evidence as to the alleged irrational conduct on the part of the defendant was offered at the trial of Harry K. Thaw today, the most impressive witness being Abraham B. Beck, an uncle of former Assistant Attorney General John M. Beck.

Beck taught a select school of fifteen boys in Pennsylvania in 1881 and 1882 and young Thaw was one of his pupils. Beck described Thaw as a boy of an ungovernable temper. He produced a letter from Mrs. William Thaw, the mother, who said in it she feared Harry's mind unbalanced. He was so different from her other four children.

One of Mr. Thaw's eccentricities, which it is said soon will be testified to, was the sending of eighty-four pounds of beef to Evelyn Nesbit one morning when she was ill. The attorneys have the receipts for the meat. Mrs. William Thaw is now in New York and is expected to be called as a witness this afternoon or tomorrow. Goes to New York.

ALUMNI TO OPPOSE ATHLETIC REFORM

Went a Seven-Game Schedule for Football Team—Plan to Influence Legislature.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—Protectors are being received from Wisconsin alumni by the University of Wisconsin athletic authorities because of the disregard shown by the faculty for the demand of the alumni that the football schedule be increased from three to seven games so as to allow at least two games each season with teams representing the minor colleges of the state. A week ago a special committee of the alumni made a report to the effect that seven games would be better than five, so as to encourage athletics in the smaller Wisconsin colleges and to stimulate friendly relations between these colleges and the university, but at the following faculty meeting the proposition was given a decisive negative and the faculty "stood pat" on the five-game rule. Now protests are being made that the faculty care nothing about the opinion of the old grads and it is suggested as a means of retaliation that the alumni, who are tremendously influential in their own localities, form an organization for the purpose of bringing influence to bear upon the legislature with reference to university appropriations.

Broadhead Ware House Has Been Brought to Trial.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Monroe, La., Jan. 15.—D. M. Daniels, the alleged robber of Ward & Kuebel warehouse at Broadhead on the night of December 11, was brought before Justice Thomas Leachman on Wednesday. Attorney A. S. Douglas appeared for the defendant. The testimony given was all showing the condition of the warehouse, the value of the fur stolen and the manner in which they were received by Judd Stingers born on December 15. No questions were asked of the witnesses except to get the facts firmly established. Mr. Kuebel testified that the fur stolen was valued at $1,525 and that the ones he recovered from the Stingers barn were worth $100 having $325 to be yet accounted for.

NEWSPAPER MEN OF S. DAKOTA CONVENE

Leading Newspaper Editors and Publishers of South Dakota To Gather For Annual Meeting.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Waterbury, N. D., Jan. 15.—Leading newspaper editors and publishers of South Dakota, comprising the membership of the State Press association, gathered here in force today for their annual mid-winter meeting. The program covers two days and is replete with interesting features of importance to those engaged in newspaper making. It is not unlikely that one of the results of the exchange of views will be a general increase in subscription rates at an early date. A majority of the publishers appear to be of the opinion that the increased price of material, together with the recent ruling of the postal authorities cutting out delinquencies, makes imperative an advance in subscription rates if the balance is to remain on the right side of the ledger.

CORN GROWERS OF TEXAS GATHERING

Association of Corn Growers Meets—Is Working to Increase Acreage in Texas.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Terrell, Texas, Jan. 15.—That corn is destined soon to take its place as one of the foremost crops raised by the Texas farmer is the unanimous belief of the many delegates who assembled in this city today to take part in the annual conference of the Texas Corn Growers' association. The association is working to increase the corn acreage and believes that the time is not far distant when Texas will produce enough corn to meet its own needs. Plans to this end are to be discussed at the present conference, which will continue in session two days, and the selection of better seed and the improvement of the variety will also be considered. An interesting exhibition made up of samples of corn grown in various parts of the state is being held in connection with the convention.

PREPARE TO FIGHT CATALOGUE HOUSES

Delegates From Minnesota Commercial Bodies Plan Campaign Against Catalogue Houses.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 15.—To lay plans for a broad campaign of education in behalf of home trade as against catalogue houses is one of the chief objects of a convention which assembled in St. Paul today with delegates in attendance from the commercial bodies throughout Minnesota. An effort will be made to enlist both the jobbers and retailers in an aggressive fight against mail order competition, which in recent years has been seriously felt by the local merchants of Minnesota in common with those of other states of the West and Northwest.

The conference is expected to result in a strong and permanent federation of the commercial clubs of Minnesota. This organization, it is proposed, will work systematically to advertise the advantages and resources of the state and otherwise work for its general development.

President Locke of the St. Paul Commercial club called the convention to order this morning and Governor Johnson greeted the visitors. Other addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor Smith of St. Paul and Hughes of Minneapolis. To these greetings response was made for the visitors by President Magnus of the Duluth Commercial Club. Temporary organization was then effected, committees appointed and other steps taken to get the convention in working shape. The sessions will continue over tomorrow. James J. Hill, State Immigration Commissioner Welch and other speakers of prominence will be heard. The catalogue houses, methods of advertising, the parcels post, and Upper Mississippi river improvements are some of the subjects that will receive attention.

BIG BRYAN RALLY IN COOPER UNION

United States Senator Davis of Arkansas Will Be the Principal Orator.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Jan. 15.—United States Senator Davis of Arkansas, whose maiden speech in the senate recently attracted widespread attention, is to be the principal orator in Cooper Union tonight at a big Bryan rally. The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the New York State Progressive Democratic League, which was established to boom Mr. Bryan. Augustus Thomas, who is chairman of the league, declares that the meeting will be the most notable demonstration since the great meeting in Madison Square Garden two years ago on Mr. Bryan's return from his trip around the world.

Mr. Thomas will preside and under the leading speech, in which he will attempt to tell why William J. Bryan should be the democratic nominee for President. Senator Davis is expected to make Wall Street the target of his attack, and Ronald Robbins, of Chicago, is to expose the alleged alliance of James J. Hill and Chairman Conners of the New York State committee. Other speakers to be heard are Joseph J. Willett of Alabama, John L. Stanchfield of Indiana, and Charles M. Bulger of Oswego.

Taft Sentiment Alarms The Handlers Of La Follette's Campaign For State Delegates.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Jan. 15.—The daily reports of endorsements of the presidential candidacy of Secretary Taft are to secure assurances that Governor Davidson will be one of the La Follette candidates for delegates at large. It is said that Governor Davidson is desirous of going to the Chicago convention as a supporter of Senator La Follette, in fact the governor says this himself frankly, but he is unwilling to make an agreement to be swung in any direction that the senator candidate may indicate. This is the point that is bothering Governor Davidson. He wants to exercise his own judgment as to whom he will support after it may develop that the Wisconsin candidate has no hope of nomination, but the La Follette people desire an agreement and pledge to accept the suggestion of the senator candidate as to the Wisconsin second choice.

NATIONAL STOCKMEN IN BIG CONVENTION

National Live Stock Association Holds Annual Convention in City of Denver.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Denver, Colo., Jan. 15.—There is every indication that the convention here next week of the National Live Stock association will be the largest and most important meeting ever held by that organization. Several things will combine to attract an unusually large and representative attendance. The Colorado live stock association will meet at the same time and all the neighboring states are expected to contribute big delegations. The market centers such as Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Joseph and Sioux City are expected to send many representatives to the gathering. The present situation in regard to the cattle raising industry and the vital importance of the topics slated for discussion will be a prominent factor in increasing the attendance. Perhaps the most important question that will come before the convention will be the public land policy of the Roosevelt administration. High officials of the Public Land Office, the department of agriculture and the forestry bureau will be on hand to set forth the attitude of the President in regard to the range and forestry questions.

In conjunction with the convention there will be held during the week a mammoth exhibition of live stock. More than $20,000 will be distributed in premiums. With the exception of a few classes that will be limited to this section of the country the show will be national in character. The exhibition will open next Monday and continue through the whole of the week.

NORCROSS WRITES OF THOMASVILLE

JANESVILLE'S ASSEMBLYMAN SPENDING WINTER IN SOUTH.

BITS OF GEORGIA'S COLOR

Interesting Letter from the Land of Cotton—Flowers Bloom—Roses Are Coming Soon.

Thomasville, Ga.—A few days ago while walking along Dawson street in this little city of Thomasville, Georgia, my attention was called to a large white house, which was occupied in the fall and winter of 1899, by Mark Hanna and some of his political friends and workers, as the headquarters of the McKinley campaign.

The house is vacant and silent now.
From the rear of the second story the "stubs" of several telegraph lines are hanging in idle disuse.

There is nothing else, to suggest the active contest which was in progress here eleven years ago. The violets, narcissus and Japanese in the surrounding garden are in full bloom now, but these blossoms will rest for another month. In fact, the big house and all about it seem to be resting since the date of that important incident in our political history.

A local artist has in his possession a fine picture of Mr. and Mrs. Mc-Kinley, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hanna and Emory Smith, who was to be the postmaster general, while they were sitting together on the front porch.

In such a presence it is quite natural to look backward to that memorable year. Mr. Cleveland, as president, was neutral. The party was distributed and divided upon the tariff and silver. He had affirmed many things that his party was not for free trade, but no influence or persuasion could secure his consent to the adoption of a free silver proposition.

McKinley's public record on the tariff began in 1877, when he entered congress. It was uniform and consistent. His record on the silver is sure, like that of many other prominent republicans, was not satisfactory to the gold standard men of the east, but he accepted the national platform which said that the republican party was unreservedly for sound money and opposed to the free coinage of silver, except by international agreement.

The democratic party, despite their president, and a large following in sympathy with him, declared for unlimited coinage of both gold and silver at the legal rate of 16 to 1 without waiting for the action of other nations, and placed Mr. Bryan at the head of its ticket.

Mr. McKinley remained at his home in Canton, Ohio, during the campaign, receiving thousands of visitors from all parts of the country, while Mr. Bryan made an unprecedented traveling campaign. In fourteen weeks he made about a hundred speeches and traveled eighteen thousand miles, and it is said that five million of people came within the hearing of his voice.

Under the impetus of the republican victory and the adoption of the gold standard of value, by all commercial nations, the United States has become so prosperous, that its prosperity seems to be one of its present dangers.

For this result, probably, Mark Hanna is entitled to more credit than any other man. He and a few of his friends furnished the money to rescue McKinley from the danger of bankruptcy when he was governor of Ohio. Mr. Hanna undertook the management of the McKinley campaign for the presidency. He visited all parts of the country for the purpose of securing and pledging delegates.
He was well equipped with brains, will-power and money and he spared nothing in his great effort to lift his lifelong friend to the highest office in the gift of the republic.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinley spent many pleasant days at Thomasville. They attended the Methodist church when here; each of them planted a tree in the courthouse yard here, one a ycamore and the other a magnolia.
They do not know the name of the other but they are known as the McKinley trees, and are well cared for.

Georgia is a very interesting state.
In size it outranks all other states east of the Mississippi river. It was one of the original colonies, which adopted the constitution of the United States unanimously one hundred and twenty years ago, and one of the eleven states which comprised the southern confederacy. It had more men in proportion to its population in the Spanish-American war than any other state. It has more negroes than any other state; several of its one hundred and forty-six counties have two or three times as many blacks as they have whites.

Excepting Texas, it raises more cotton than any other state. That is the great crop here, almost two million bales in 1904. Before the war but little if any of it was manufactured here, but now it is the fourth state in the manufacture of bleached cotton goods and manufactures almost 30 per cent of the entire crop.

121 Whitney was lying here when he invented the cotton gin, which made slavery profitable.

Then, too, this is the watermelon state, one hundred thousand acres devoted to that juicy industry, more than 10,000 cars required to transport the crop. But our cold state of Wisconsin raises almost 10,000,000 more bushels of corn per annum than this state. Clover and timothy do not thrive here so those people must buy their butter and cheese from the colder states. Milk sells here at a shilling a quart and cream at 50 cents a quart. We had a little egg hog here on Christmas day. A little New Year's day the whole state became dry-dream and whiskey both out of sight. There is no romance about it—it is a fact. The reckless use of intoxicating liquor by the negroes had become a fearful menace to the safety of the whole people.

The Atlantic riot of 1906 is said to be the result of the indifference to use of whiskey by the blacks. But whether true or not, the sentiment of the people of this state is unalterably fixed against the sale and use of intoxicating liquors. The local venue in the towns and smaller cities is established that fact last year and the year before.

Thomasville is a compact little city of about 600 people and has been dry for several years. When these southern people make up their minds, on any subject, they don't change.

A few Sundays ago I attended the Methodist church here. The preacher became so earnest in presenting his subject that he came around in front of the pulpit and by the most vigorous language and forcible gestures he warned us of our great risk and danger, in postponing the time of our repentance. I was a little uneasy over the matter, so on my way back to the hotel I dropped into a drugstore to get a brace in the shape of a glass of Coca Cola. It was fused on the ground, that it was against the city ordinance to sell drinks any kind on the Sabbath.

They asked for a clear and again turned down with the answer, that nothing but drugs, or under prescription, could be sold on Sunday—no halfway work here.
You must be good, whether you want to or not. Thomasville has brick streets and cement sidewalks, for which the abutting owners pay half and the city the other half. It has just finished a stubborn fight on the question of whether cows shall be permitted to run at large or not. It was the hot absorbing question at the last primary municipal election. The anti-cow men won by five votes. If the blacks had been allowed to vote the decision would have been the other way.

This city was the home of Henry Asmus Plummer, who was the first black man to graduate from the West Point Military school. I think he was the only black man who ever graduated from that institution. He was recommended by a southern member of congress, during reconstruction days. Prior to the emancipation he and his mother were slaves, owned by the Rev. Reuben H. Lusk, a Methodist preacher. His father, formerly a Virginian slave, still works at his trade of shoemaker in this city. The appointment was made quite a time at the time.
Young Plummer was offered $5,000 for his opportunity, but he refused it.

Georgia with its 2,000,000 black and white population has but very few citizens of foreign birth. Existing conditions have fixed this matter.
The vigorous, enterprising foreigner does not wish to come to this state.
The climate is attractive, but the labor here is all done by the blacks.
They are willing to work at low prices, and it does not cost as much to house and feed them as it does the whites.

Another thing, these two races under the moulting circumstances of several generations have become accustomed to each other and have accepted their respective places in the social world. The southern white and negro go along together much better than the northern white and southern negro could. They understand each other. It is true, I think, that the negro as a slave was better cared for than he is cared for now by himself. It will take time for the black race to learn the great lessons of industry and economy and self-care, which are essential to the success of any race of people, but I do not intend to write a history.

BELOIT Y. M. C. A. IS VERY FLOURISHING
Has Increased 85 Per Cent in Two Years—Dr. Pechman Pleads for Same Marriages.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Beloit, Wis., Jan. 15.—From one of the smallest of the Beloit Y. M. C. A. has grown during the past twenty months into one of the largest,
now holding second place in the state of Wisconsin. The increase has been from 60 members in 1887 to 108 in the past year. The increase was eighty-five per cent. This phenomenal growth can be credited largely to the work of Secretary Peter Hansen who has made the association one of the most popular organizations in the city.

In an address to the young men of the city Dr. W. F. Pechman said, "When you marry do not pick out a painted face and a bundle of dry goods." He proceeded to plead for biologically good marriages and said that if horses could be bred to bring fabulous prices the human race could be improved nearly to perfection.

COUNTRY CLUB MEETS;
CHOOSING OFFICERS

First Meeting of Country Club Stockholders in Six Years Held Last Night.

'Stockholders of the Janesville Country Club held their first meeting since March 5th, 1901, in the Municipal Court room of the city hall last evening. The roll call showed twenty-eight shares represented by their owners and twenty-four by proxy. As there are ninety-five shares outstanding this made a quorum and the meeting proceeded to business.

Treas. J. G. Rexford made the treasurer's report which was adopted as follows: Since the organization the receipts have been $1,637.50 from stock and $1,342.32 from the sale of land, making a total of $2,979.82. Of this there has been expended in the purchase of land all but a balance of $9.28.

The meeting then proceeded to the election of directors, all the old directors being elected to succeed themselves. Those elected for one year were Geo. G. Sutherland, P. J. Mount and V. P. Richardson; for two years, C. C. MacLean, J. G. Rexford and J.
P. Baker; and for three years, F. C.
Held, Geo. M. McKee and C. L. Pe-hold. It was then moved and carried that the directors be given power to sell the extra land owned by the club and it was also decided to collect the money due on shares which were not yet fully paid up.

A motion that the directors of the Country Club should meet and confer with the committee appointed by the Golf club brought up the question of the relationship of the two clubs. Atty.
W. C. Wheeler then stated that such a meeting had been held on Monday evening and that after talking the question over it was decided to let matters go on as they had formerly.

He said that in the past year the Golf Club had expended about two thousand dollars in permanent improvements on the grounds, and that unless the Country Club should in the future make these necessary improvements, the Golf Club could not afford to do any more for the country club members than to allow them the privileges of the clubhouse. As it is now Country Club members are allowed all privileges except that of playing golf or are allowed $3 a year on their golf club dues if they are members of both organizations. Mr. Wheeler also stated that the golf club needed about twenty-five more members in order to put it upon a sound basis financially and that as long as it was putting permanent improvements up on the grounds which became the property of the Country Club it was unable at the present time to do any more. Several others spoke and it seemed to be the general opinion that the Country Club was getting all that it could expect. It was also stated that in the future the dues of the golf club would have to be raised in order to allow the golf club to meet expenses and that this would allow the Country Club members to get for nothing privileges which others would have to pay either $5.00 or $20 for according as they were honorary or active members of the golf club. In view of these circumstances it was decided that the relations should continue as they have been in the past.

After the meeting of the stockholders the directors held a short session and re-elected the officers who have been holding office for the past six years. These officers are:
President—V. P. Richardson.
Vice Pres.—J. P. Baker.
Secretary—C. L. Pehold.
Treasurer—J. G. Rexford.

The executive committee selected consists of the president, vice president and secretary.

place at eight o'clock and was followed by the serving of a delicious supper. The young couple will make their home on the groom's farm in George Kendall for many years a prominent conductor on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road whose wife, formerly Miss Belle Carpenter, was interred in the cemetery at Milwaukee, being brought from Chicago on a special train furnished by President Harding. The funeral service was held at his late residence, 1329 Dyckon street, Chicago, and seventy-five Masons accompanied the remains to Milwaukee where they were laid at rest in Mrs. Kendall's family lot, where her father, A. V. H. Carpenter, is buried. E. F. Carpenter of this city attended the funeral from Janes-

TENTATIVE PLANS FOR CHAUTAUQUA

DISCUSSED AT A MEETING WITH MANAGER HOLBROOK.

ASSEMBLY NOT YET ASSURED

But Rev. W. A. Goebel, the President, and Others Believe that Public Wants It Another Year.

It is believed by Rev. W. A. Goebel, the president, John H. Jones of the board of directors, and others that Janesville citizens want and will support a Chautauqua assembly during the coming summer. In round figures the receipts last season were $2,000 and the expenditures $3,400. Several hundred dollars were wasted in renting tents which were never unpacked, and weather conditions were extremely unfavorable. More money was paid for some attractions than they were worth. There was a surplus in the treasury which covered the deficit and though the shinking fund has vanished, the Association could start the new season without any handicap. With reasonably fair weather a good program, and more caution in the matter of expenditures there would seem to be no reason why the venture should not prove a success.

Almost but Not Quite.
But inasmuch as it is to certain degree a venture—it being something of a gambling proposition, and no efforts having as yet been made in the way of an advance—guaranteed sale of season tickets—the local directors were not ready last evening to sign the contract with Manager Harry Holbrook for the 1908 program.

Within a week or ten days there must be some expression of public opinion with regard to the project, either at a mass meeting or through the promises of individuals to purchase a certain number of season tickets.
For the proposed program, which is deemed a very good one, cannot be held for Janesville beyond the limits of that period. It is almost, but not quite, a foregone conclusion that the city is to have this out-of-door entertainment. The president said he stood ready to hunt up $100 to meet his share of any possible deficit but such of the directors as were present at the meeting were not of the same understanding disposition. Manager Holbrook is so confident of success that he almost intimates that he would take a really heavy share of the risk, himself, before he would see the enterprise abandoned. If he should do so and the enterprise proved highly successful, he would, of course, be entitled to most of the profits. Unless such officers as have already shown a disposition to take some responsibility decide to go the whole length and take it all, there will have to be another meeting and a "showdown" within the next few days. A new secretary must also be named.

The program offered will cost $1,315 instead of $1,380, which represents last season's outlay. Not a single "request" is to be included.
The time is shortened to eight days, the Assembly opening Sunday morning, July 26 and closing Sunday evening, August 2. The first day's lecture includes a morning lecture on "Christ and His Critics" by Edgar M. Wright who would be platform manager and speak each day following; an afternoon lecture on "The Unborn Queen" by Alfred G. Arnold, heralded as the "College Boy Orator"; and an evening lecture on "Our Ideals" by Congressman James Watson of the 6th district, Indiana—said to be the most eloquent speaker in the House of Representatives and destined to be Indiana's next governor. Beyond peradventure of a doubt. Several unexpected numbers are provided for each of these sessions. The other bookings are as follows:

Carters Virginia Warblers, eight colored vocalists, to be here three days.
Charlotte Llewellyn—teacher of instructive and original games for the children, including some unique indian pastimes—to take care of the little boys and girls during the life of the Chautauqua.

Martha S. Glou—reader and lecturer, and postmistress in negro distract—one of the leaders in the movement for the betterment of the 200, 000 children of the "White Trash" Monday—lecture on "The Songs and Stories of the Old South."

and lecturer on Dickens's characters—1 entertainment.

Tom, George W. Thompson of the Indiana Bar on "The Trial of Jesus, the Christ, from a Legal Standpoint." 1 lecture.

ford) in clay modeling and cartoons—1 entertainment.

The Houstons (Wm. Taber Houston and wife) music, audiology, impersonations, readings, and stories—1 entertainment.
The Temple Lady Quartette—3 days.

Hattie Reed Grace, dramatic soprano ("Music of Bird and Man")— 1 day.
Alta Beach Edmunds, contralto, and director of music in one of the Chicago churches—2 days.

Francis B. Wendling of Chicago—dramatic orator—in one lecture on "The Unfinished Picture."
Joseph—magician—1 entertainment.
M. W. Wareing—hypnotist—demonstration and talk on applied psychology—1 lecture.

Chance For Big Convention.
Manager Holbrook offered as a substitute for this program the annual convention of the International Lyecum association which would bring from 200 to 300 professional entertainers here. The convention, itself, gives a Chautauqua with about 100 separate entertainments and lectures.
It would require a guarantee of $2,000 and considerable lending to make the affair a success and sentiment seemed to be that it would be too big an undertaking for this season.

SEEK STUDENTS FOR THE CONSTABULARY

Brigadier-General in Philippines Writes University Commandant for Men for His Service.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 16.—Lieutenant Ralph McCoy, commandant of the University of Wisconsin corps of cadets, has just received a letter from Brigadier-General H. H. Bandholtz, in charge of the Philippine constabulary at Manila, asking that the students in the corps of cadets and the university graduates in the state who are interested in military affairs be notified that there are several positions in the staff of constabulary officers which are open to appointment, and which the government desires to fill with university men of military training.

The constabulary is the armed civil police force of the government of the Philippine Islands, established and administered under the general supervision of the governor-general for the purpose of maintaining order, preventing and detecting crime, and enforcing law. It consists of about 325 commissioned officers, almost all of whom are Americans, together with some 5,000 natives. The companies are scattered throughout the archipelago wherever needed, and often the officers are called upon to perform important civil and political work in addition to the training and instruction of their men. In suppressing brigandage they have to take the field, or take possession of a village or district, performing a variety of duties ranging from those of police and postmaster to mayor and governor. Thus the service as an officer of the constabulary takes men of high character and demands much energy, tact, and ability. Appointment is made to the rank of third lieutenant, and inspector, with a salary of $1,100.

As vacancies occur promotions are made, with increase of salary to a maximum of $3,500. In addition the officers are furnished with quarters, and reading either the Moro dialect or one of the Filipino dialects are given $50 a year in addition to their regular salary.

THE REAL TEST.
Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Herpicide

Of Course They Said So.

"How did you happen to come to me for your dentistry," said Dr. Richards to a patient recently.

"Why, you see I'm a stranger here," said the party, "and I inquired of several people as to what dentist to go to and they all said 'to Dr. Richards' if I wanted 'Painless work'."

"Of course, I didn't want to be hurt and so I came to you," said the patient.

"Well, are you sorry you came?"

"Not a bit. You never hurt me in the least."

It's worth something to have such a reputation for Painless Dentistry. If you need dentistry and wish perfect satisfaction try Dr. Richards. He "delivers the goods."

Thus far Mr. Ruger, R. M. Bushford of Madison who was appointed to fill the vacancy, Mr. Lane of Superior, and Judge O'Neill of Neillsville are among those mentioned for the office.

WILL PLAY MILTON TEAM THIS EVENING

Y. M. C. A. Basketball Team Will Go to Milton and Play the College Team.

This evening the return game between the Milton college basketball team and the local Y. M. C. A. team will be played at Milton. The college five came down here some time ago and were defeated in a close game by the Janesville team. On their own floor they will have the advantage and the outcome of the game is rather doubtful as the Milton team is a strong one this year. The Y. M. C. A. team has not, however, been beaten yet in any of their regular games and hope to keep their record clean.

The team from here will be composed of Matthews, forward; Kline, forward; Sonnett, center; Gange, guard; Booth and Baker, subs; Harper, referee; and Louis Baker, scorer. The team will leave here at five o'clock and will be accompanied by Physical Director Mummert of the Y. M. C. A.

LABOR STRUGGLE ON LAKES COMING

LUMBER CARRIERS DECIDE THEY MUST REDUCE EXPENSES.

LOST MONEY LAST YEAR

Many Hundreds of Boatmen and Longshoremen Will Be Involved Association Elects Its Officers.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 16.—At their annual meeting here Wednesday the Lumber Carriers' Association of the Great Lakes decided that it would be impossible to operate their boats during the coming season at the same expense and under the same conditions as prevailed during 1907 and appointed a labor committee to devise means to improve the conditions.

This action is generally taken to preface a struggle in the spring with the various labor unions whose members are employed on the boats, and the longshoremen, and a late opening of the lumber carrying season.

Operated at a Loss Last Year. In a statement issued after the meeting the association declared that most of its boats were operated at a loss for the season of 1907, some at a considerable loss. It was, therefore, the unanimous opinion of those present, representing over 85 per cent. of the lumber tonnage of the lakes, that "with the further decreased freight in sight for the coming year, carrying with it a probable reduction in freight rates, it would be impossible to operate the boats for the coming year under the same expense and conditions as existed in 1907."

Hundreds of Men Involved. There are about 325 boats engaged in the lumber trade on the lakes, and their loading and unloading gives employment to hundreds of longshoremen.

The association elected the following officers: President, W. H. Toare; vice-presidents, O. W. Woodgett, E. L. Fisher, A. W. Comstock; secretary, treasurer, H. E. Runkle; a board of managers of 27 members was also elected.

SULTAN'S ARMY IN RABAT. Populace Greatly Excited by Prospects of Holy War.

Rabat, Morocco, Jan. 16.—The army under Gen. Hagdani, commander-in-chief for the sultan, Abdel-Aziz, entered this port Wednesday. The houses of the European residents are being guarded.

The populace of Rabat is greatly excited over the news from Fez that Mulai Hafid has been declared sultan and that a holy war is to be inaugurated. The members of the governing board of Morocco are extremely perturbed, as they have been notified that unless they declare for Mulai Hafid all their property at Fez will be forfeited.

SAY BECKHAM CANNOT WIN

HIS DEMOCRATIC OPPONENTS ARE FIRMER THAN EVER.

Deadlock in Kentucky Legislature Seems Hopeless—Senator Wheeler Campbell Uses Plain Language.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 16.—The senatorial situation has changed little since Tuesday except that the anti-Beckham Democrats seem to be more solidly against him than ever and declare that he now has no chance to win.

The vote Wednesday stood 66 for Beckham, 64 for Bradley, 5 scattering, two (one Republican and one Democrat) absent, and one Democrat not voting.

Senator Wheeler Campbell (Dem.) of Paducah, spoke in the joint session and eloquently gave his reasons for not voting for Beckham. He said Beckham was for himself first and his party afterwards, and had been misled by his ambition and bad advice. In answer to a question as to whether he participated in the senatorial primary last year, he declined to answer and said the question was the first sign of unbecomence hurled at him because of his vote against Beckham. He and Senator Charlton, who voted against Beckham, were hissed by the crowd in the galleries.

Representative McKnight (Dem.) voted for Senator Campbell. The Republicans are voting solidly for Bradley and express their hope of victory, but it has the appearance either of a hopeless deadlock or some Democratic other than Beckham.

NEW GUNS FOR NATIONAL GUARD

Welcome Announcement at the Convention in Boston.

Boston, Jan. 16.—At the closing session Wednesday of the National guard convention announcement was made by Gen. Crozier, chief of the ordnance bureau of the United States army, through Gen. Dray, as president of the National Rifle association, that the National guard throughout the country would be equipped before April 30 next with the new model 1903 magazine rifle and 1905 ammunition.

The report of the committee on encampments, maneuvers and practice read by Maj. Gen. William E. Harvey of Washington declared that too much time was lost in parade work and not enough taken in actual instruction. Gen. Carl F. Wagner of Michigan presented a report of the committee on small arms practice which commended the remarkable interest in gun practice among civilians and urged that it be fostered in every way, especially in interstate and national competition.

After that adjournment the delegates were the guests of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston at a banquet.

THREE I. AND M. CANAL REPORTS.

Illinois Legislative Committee Members Could Not Agree.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 16.—The special legislative committee, which was appointed under the Lantz resolution to investigate the conduct of the Illinois and Michigan canal commissioners with reference to certain leases entered into by the commissioners with the Economy Light and Power company of Joliet, after days of wrangling over the character of the report to be presented and being unable to agree, Wednesday afternoon presented to the legislature three reports.

One report is signed by the three Republican members of the committee and contains simply the results of the findings brought out by the investigation. A supplemental report was filed by Representative Hoarn, and a third report was filed by Representative Deagan, in which the dismissal of the canal commissioners is recommended.

The joint conference committee having in charge primary legislation, after holding three sessions Wednesday, are still deadlocked as to the nature of a bill to be reported out to both houses.

MINE COMPANY EXONERATED.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury on the Monongah Disaster.

Fairmont, W. Va., Jan. 16.—Late Wednesday afternoon the coroner's jury returned its verdict in connection with the investigation of the Monongah mine disaster. It finds that the explosion was due to either a blow-out shot or to ignition of powder which in turn ignited the gas in the mine.

It finds that there were traces of gas in mines Nos. 6 and 8 but not in dangerous quantities; that the company complied with all the state regulations and took all reasonable precautions, such as sprinkling for the keeping down of the coal dust, and practically exonerates the coal company from responsibility for the loss of life.

Girls' Dormitory Is Burned. Oxford, O., Jan. 16.—Heppner hall, the girls' dormitory at Miami university, was destroyed by fire late Wednesday afternoon. All of the young women students were in the gymnasium when the fire started, but all saved their personal effects except those who had rooms on the third floor. The loss is estimated at $30,000. The fire is supposed to have been caused by electric wires becoming crossed.

NEW YORK BANKER INDICTED TWICE

PRESIDENT MONTGOMERY OF THE HAMILTON IS ACCUSED.

IS RELEASED ON BAIL

Charged with Irregular Acts While Vice President—He Was Served Recently by the Depositors.

New York, Jan. 16.—The special grand jury, which was sworn in to investigate the conduct of certain banks in New York county returned two indictments Wednesday against William H. Montgomery, president of the Hamilton bank.

The charges, involving over-drafts and over-certification, have to do with acts alleged to have been committed by Montgomery while he was vice president of the institution. When E. R. and O. F. Thomas retired from their banking interests Mr. Montgomery succeeded the former in the presidency.

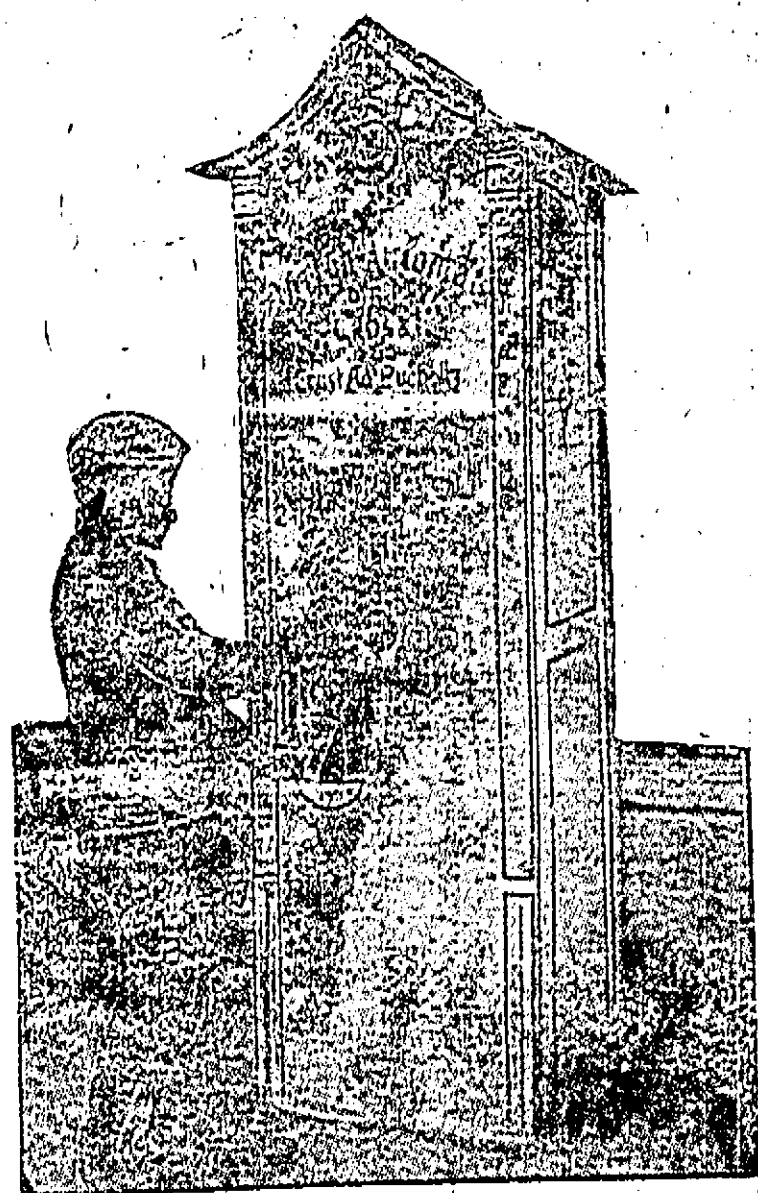

Said He Would Be Vindicated.

The Hamilton bank suspended on October 23 last. Recently the courts decided that the receivership should not be made permanent. The decision was made the occasion of a joyful demonstration on the part of the depositors who, headed by a band of music, marched to the home of the president and cheered him until he responded with a speech in which he declared that his personal vindication as an officer would follow the investigation of the bank's affairs. At the time Montgomery had been accused of lax management by Receiver White.

Montgomery was present when wanted Wednesday and in the criminal branch of the supreme court played guilty with the usual reservation of his right to change his plea or demand to the indictments. The $5,000 bail required was furnished by William H. Hiram, a director of the bank.

Charges in the Indictments. One indictment charges that on August 29 last Montgomery drew a check for $12,350, payable to B. E. Strassburger, a Maiden Lane jeweler, and caused it to be certified. This transaction, it is alleged, constituted an overdraw of $12,350.

The second indictment sets forth that on September 6, last, the defendant drew a check to the order of Dr. L. C. Warner for $21,000, at a time when the maker's balance in the bank was only $5,918. This balance, it is charged, had been further reduced to $154 when the check in question was presented three days later and was paid by the bank.

"Good Lord!" exclaimed Plank, alarmed. "You wouldn't make a joke of it? You wouldn't be careless about such a thing? And there's Quarrier! I'm not on joking terms with him. I'm on most formal terms."

"Quarrier?" sneered the other, flitting at his stirrup with his crop. "He's on formal terms with everybody, including himself. He never laughed on purpose in his life; once a month only, to keep his mouth in; that's his limit. Do you suppose any woman would stand for him if a better man looked sideways at her?" And, reversing his riding crop, he deliberately poked Mr. Plank in the ribs.

"A better man?" muttered Plank, scarce crediting his ears.

"Certainly. A man who can make good, is good, but a man who can make better is it with the ladies—God bless 'em!" he added, displaying a heavy set of teeth.

Beverly Plank knew perfectly well that in the comparison so delicately suggested by Mortimer his material equipment could be scarcely compared to the immense fortune controlled by Howard Quarrier, and as he thought it his reflection were put into words by Mortimer, he blurted out:

"Nobody stands a chance in a show down with Quarrier, but—"

Plank gasped until the tension became unbearable.

"What—what?" he blurted out.

"Plank," said Mortimer solemnly, and his voice vibrated with feeling, "but no do a little thinking before I ask you a vital question."

But Plank had become agitated again, and he said something so bluntly that Mortimer wheeled on him, frowning:

"Look here, Plank; you don't suppose I'm capable of repeating a confidence, do you?—if you choose to make me understand it's a confidence?"

"It isn't a confidence; it isn't anything. I mean it is confidential, of course. All there's in it is what I said, or, rather, what you took me up on so fast," ended Plank, blushed.

"About your being in love with Sylvia?"

"Confound it!" roared Plank, crimson to his hair. And he set his heavy square to his mouth and plucked forward in a storm of dust. Mortimer followed, silent, profoundly immersed in his own thoughts and deductions.

And all that afternoon, having taken to his room on pretense of neuralgia, he lay sprawled on his bed, thinking, thinking. Not that he meant harm to anybody; (he told himself very frequently, he had, of course, information which certain degraded men might use in a contemptible way, but he (Mortimer) did not resemble such men in any particular. All he desired was to do Plank a good turn. There was nothing disreputable in doing a wealthy man a favor. And God knew a wealthy man's gratitude was necessary to him at that very moment—gratitude substantially acknowledged. He liked Plank, wished him well. That was all right, too, but a man in an ass who doesn't wish himself well never, two birds with one stone. Three, for he hated Quarrier! Four, for he had no love for his wife! Besides, it would touch Lella a wholesome lesson—teach her that he still counted; give her right for her disgusting friendship for Plank.

No, there was to be nothing disreputable in his proceedings; that he would be very careful about. Probably Major Belvedere might express his gratitude substantially if he, Mortimer, went to him frankly and volunteered that he wouldn't swap up Plank in such a fix and make it look like a jilt for Quarrier? But Plank must do his part on the instant. Plank must step up in the very nick of time. Plank, with his millions and his ambitions, was bound to be a winner anyway, and Sylvia might as well be his pilot and use his money. And Plank would be very, very grateful—very useful, a very good friend to have, and Lella would learn at last that he, Mortimer, had cut his wisdom teeth, by God!

As for Sward, he amounted to nothing. Probably was one of that contemptible sort of men who butted in and kissed a pretty girl when he had the chance. He, Mortimer, had only disgust for such amateurs of the social byways.

After all, the matter was simple—absolutely simple. A word to Quarrier, and crack, the match was off! Get him as a hornet, but singed, has no explanation to offer—man frozen stiff with rage, mute as an iceberg. Then, zip, enter Beverly Plank, the girl's rescuer at a pinch, her preserver, the savior of her "face," the big, highly colored, leavened dough ex-machina. Would she take 50 cents on the dollar—would she, to buy herself a new "face," and put it all over Quarrier, and live happy ever after—would she? Oh, not at all!

The main thing, after all, was to promise Plank his opportunity, but not tell him how he was to obtain it, for Mortimer had an uneasy idea that there was something of the Puritan deep planted under the stolid young man's hide and that he might make some absurd and irrelevant objection.

body" could forecast "his action" when once convinced of Sylvia's behavior.

He lay there pondering several methods of imparting the sad but necessary information to Quarrier. One thing was certain—there was not now time enough before the house party dissolved to mold Plank into acquiescent obedience. That must be decided in town unless Plank invited him to stay at the Falls after his time was up at Kholover. By heaven, that was the idea! And there'd be a chance for him at cards. Only, of course, Plank would ask Lella too. But what did he care? He was no longer afraid of her. He'd soon be independent of her and her pittance.

And so, immersed in the details of his dirty little drama, he pondered over the possibility of an ulterior gentleman as he moved heavily to and fro, dressing himself, his neuralgia being much better, and presently descended the stairs to find everybody absent, engaged, as a servant explained, in a game of water basket ball in the swimming pool. So he strolled off toward the north wing of the house, which had been built for the squash courts and swimming pool.

The Pogo boys and Rena and Ellen, on one side, were playing the last match game against Sylvia, Marion Pogo, Sward and Ferrall on the other. The big, slipping, glistening ball was flying about through storms of spray, Marion caught it, but her brother Gordon got it away. Then Ferrall swung it and it dived toward the red goal, but Lella Bonnedel caught him under water; the ball bobbed up, and Sylvia flung both arms around it with a little warning shout and hurled it back at Sward, who shot forward like an arrow, his opponents gathering about him in full cry amid laughter and excited applause from the gallery, where Grace Ferrall and Captain Voucher were wildly offering odds on the blue and Alderene and Major Belvedere were thrifflily booking them.

Mortimer climbed the slippery marble stairway as fast as his lack of breath permitted, anxious for his share of the harvest if the odds were right. He managed to make several apparently desirable wagers with Kathryn Tassel and with Beverly Plank, who was also obstinately backing the blues, the losing side. Sylvia played forward for the blues.

Suddenly through the confused blur of foam and spray the big, glistening ball shot aloft and remained.

"Blue!" blurted Grace Ferrall, clapping her hands, and a little whirlwind of cries and hand clapping echoed from the gallery as the breathless swimmers came climbing out of the pool with scarcely wind enough left for a word or strength for a gesture toward the laughing crowd above.

Mortimer, disengaged, turned away, already casting about him for somebody to play cards with, it being his temperament and his temper to throw good money after bad. But Quarrier and Miss Chithreus had already returned to the squash courts, the majority of the swimmers to their several dressing rooms and Grace Ferrall's party, equipped for motorizing, to the lawn, where they lost little time in disappearing into the golden haze which a sudden shift of wind had spun out of the cloudless afternoon's sunshine.

However he got Marion and also, as usual, the two men who had made a practice of taking away his money, Major Belvedere and Lord Alderene. He hadn't particularly wanted them. He wanted somebody he could play with, like Sward, for example, or even the two ten dollar Pogos. Not that their combined twenty would do him much good, but it would at least permit him the pleasures of the card table without personal loss.

But the Pogos had retired to dress, and Voucher was for motorizing, and he had no use for his wife, and he was afraid of Plank's game, and Sward, seated on the edge of the pool and sharing a pint of ginger ale with Sylvia Landis, shook his head at the suggestion and resumed his division of the ginger ale.

Nerve Sick

If weak, worn-out, nervous, cannot sleep; have indigestion, headache, neuralgia or periodic pains, it is because your nerves are weak. It is the lack of nerve force that makes the stomach, heart, lungs, etc., work imperfectly—become sick. Dr. Miles' Nervine cures the sick when it restores nerve strength, and puts the power behind the organs to do their work.

"Almost three years I suffered from nervousness, indigestion, and palpitation of the heart. I could not eat or sleep with comfort, or walk or talk without suffering. Altogether I was in a bad condition. My doctor did not do me any good. I had tried so many remedies that I did not have much hope of any of them doing me any good. Dr. Miles' Nervine was suggested by a friend. I got relief from the first, and after a few days I felt like a new person. It not only relieved my heart and nerves, but has invigorated my whole system. I am very grateful because since I have stopped using it, I have been absolutely the return of my old trouble."

John Wesley's Christening Robe.
The robe which John Wesley wore when he was christened over 200 years ago is now the property of Miss Emma Postley, of Workshop, 1249 Land, it having come to her from her grandfather, at whose house Wesley lived for a time when but an infant.

A Most Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts from native medicinal roots and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Golden Seal, and other roots and Quinon's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and tonic. It is a most efficient promoter of the action of the Black Cherry bark, Quinon's root and Black Cherry bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe catarrh, hemorrhoids, chronic constipation, and other ailments. In acute cases it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-over coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures.

Prof. H. E. Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Med. College, Chicago, says of glycerine: "In glycerine is an excellent purpose. Holding a fixed quantity of the peroxide of hydrogen in solution, it is one of the best manufactured products of the present time for house use. It is a most efficient promoter of the action of the Black Cherry bark, Quinon's root and Black Cherry bark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe catarrh, hemorrhoids, chronic constipation, and other ailments. In acute cases it is not so effective. It is in the lingering hang-over coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures."

Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., for free booklet telling all about the nature and medicinal uses of this wonderful medicine. There is no alcohol in it.
